Cookies Policy

We use cookies to ensure the technically correct functioning of the www.indemo.eu website, to make it easier for you to use our website and to provide you with a personalised user experience.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text and letter files that a website stores on a user's device when you visit a web page. They can be used to keep track of what pages you visit, to store the information you enter or to remember your preferences, such as language settings, as you browse the site.

Cookies have different purposes and lifetimes.

Some cookies are called "session cookies" and expire as soon as the user closes the web browser. Other cookies are called "persistent cookies" and are stored for a certain period of time. When you revisit a website, your web browser will read all persistent cookies and deliver the information to the website that sent the cookie to you.

What categories of cookies do we use?

We use the following categories of cookies. You can consent to all categories of cookies or just one of them. By consenting to a category of cookies, you consent to all cookies in that category. You can change your preferences and refuse cookies at any time.

A) Required cookies

These cookies are necessary for you to access different parts of the Indemo website and are stored on your device during your visit and browsing of the website. These cookies are necessary for the operation of the website, so they cannot be turned off and are considered mandatory.

B) Analytical cookies

These cookies allow us to track the number and sources of visits so that we can measure and improve the performance of our website. Analytical cookies allow us to understand how visitors move around our site. If you opt out of these cookies, your visit will not be included in our statistics but will not restrict your activities on our website.

The following cookies are used on our website:

When should you consent to cookies?

When you visit our website, you are informed in the cookie bar that cookies will be used on the website and asked to give your permission to use specific categories of cookies.

For "required" cookies, the user's consent is not asked as these cookies ensure the complete and uninterrupted display and operation of the content of the www.indemo.eu website.

What happens if you reject cookies?

If you do not want cookies to be used on your device, you can manage your cookie preferences or refuse cookies. Please note that this choice may affect the functionality of the website, and therefore you may not be able to use our online services to their full extent.

How do you delete cookies?

If you wish to restrict or prohibit the use and storage of cookies on your devices or delete cookies that have already been stored, you can do this in your web browser settings. For more information on managing cookies, visit www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies.

You can set your browser to accept all cookies, refuse all cookies or display a notification for each cookie download. Your device's operating system may include additional features to control the use of cookies. If you do not want cookies to collect information, refuse the use of cookies in your browser settings.

Policy changes

The Company reserves the right to change or amend this Cookies Policy at any time without notice. The always up-to-date Cookies Policy is available at www.indemo.eu.
